But in November, Intel Wants Trade Secret Rules Tightened

Co that has design centre in Bengaluru wants govt to strengthen protection under IPR policy

Bid to Protect Innovation

Intel has written to govt and the newly set-up IPR panel.

Currently there is no specific law to deal with the issue in India.

Intel has design and development centres in Bengaluru.

Startups may not have resources to protect their innovations.

Experts suggest innovators face significant risk of theft of trade secrets.

IF ANS SUGGESTS:

Trade secrets should be elevated to intellectual property rights and given statutory protection.

Intel needs to depart from the British model of contractual protection and to elevate trade secrets to a general IP right with statutory protection in specific criminal sanctions. Intel said.

Online approval system soon for over 200 state & central permits needed to start biz

Vikas Dhaat @theeconomicstimes.com

New Delhi: By April 2015, starting a new business in India would no longer require building entrepreneurs to make multiple trips to several government offices, with the Ministry of Skill Development and Entrepreneurship moving to an online approval system for more than 200 permits required by entrepreneurs in different professional and state government departments.

The new system for registration and licensing will be available on the e-Gate portal and linked online to start with, and eventually an mobile app, in line with PM Modi's vision of bringing government services to people's fingertips.

This initiative would be high-

SC Throws a Bouncer at Srinji & BCCI, Suggests CSK's Removal

Mudgal panel may be asked to decide punishment

Sumanjeet Bhatnagar @theeconomicstimes.com

New Delhi: The Board of Control for Cricket in India and its president Shri Venkatesh Prasad were subjected to a further barrage of criticism on Thursday by the Supreme Court, which also suggested scrapping the Indian Premier League franchise Chennai Super Kings (CSK). Owned by the Sri Lankan-born India Co-owner, CSK is led by India captain MS Dhoni. Hearings into the case will resume on Monday.

The new judge bench, comprising Justice T. Thirumurthy and Full Bench, stated it may ask the Madhya Pradesh, which had selected Srinji's son-in-law

MINERAL WATER IN WHICH SAFFRON HAS BEEN STEEPED, WHICH IS WHAT WILL BE SERVED AT THE ET AWARDS THIS SATURDAY, HAS A SIMPLE ELEGANCE WHICH IS HARD TO BEAT AS A SIGN OF REAL LUXURY

That it does most of its marketing through word-of-mouth and good reviews can be said only as a side note. Many others require marketing to sell – from the India's best wine, to the world's best coffee, to the world's best chocolate – because their essential flavor characteristics are subtle.
